MATCHING

ANSWER KEY

Clone Organelles

A change that helps plants or animals survive better in their environment.

A green substance in plants that helps them turn sunlight into food.

A plant or animal that is exactly the same as its parent.

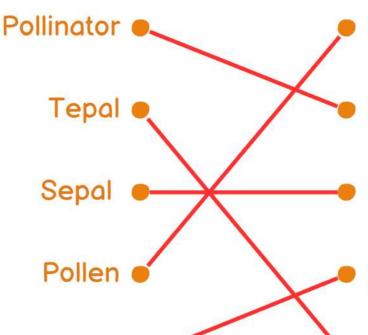

Tiny parts inside plant and animal cells that help the cell to live and grow.

Photosynthesis

Adaption

Symbiosis

The way plants use sunlight, water, and air to make their food.

Tiny powdery grains made by flowers, needed to produce seeds.

An insect or animal, like a bee or bird, that carries pollen from one flower to another.

Small leaves around a flower bud that protect it before it opens.

When two different living things help each other to survive.

A part of some flowers, like lilies, where the petals and sepals look exactly the same.

Uses comprehension strategies to sort information.

© LearnFromPlay | LearnFromPlay.com