

REALITY VERSUS THE IMAGE

The bowerbird keeps striving for things only to find they are not what he wants for example he soars into the sky. Up, up, up into the blue only to fall back down into the grey. He then splashes into the glistening blue only to find that it is frosty cold.

Use the lines below to describe items which you can describe one way but in reality are not as awesome as they first appear. An example has been provided for you.

Example 1: The snow looks so white, so soft, like fluffy cotton wool. I grab a handful to kiss and find that it is cold and wet and hard when I squeeze it.
